Skyline Juniors Volleyball

Celebrating 11 Years of Volleyball Excellence

Skyline Juniors Volleyball Association is a non-profit organization dedicated to the development and training of Junior Olympic athletes. We seek to compete competitively on national and local levels and to do so, we will go the extra mile to develop and showcase our young athletes. We will constantly strive to enable both our players and our coaches to reach their full potential.

Skyline Organizational Values:

(Values common to both Skyline Juniors and SPV)

- Strive to make decisions based on what is best for the athletes
- Train young athletes to excel at higher levels of competition
- Integrate coaching strategies (offense/defense) so that players can take what they have learned in the past and apply it to the following year(s)
- Sustain a coaching philosophy throughout the club based on Positive Reinforcement, Encouragement, and Motivation

Core Values Unique to Skyline Juniors:

- Limit the number of teams we carry, so they do not exceed the number of quality coaches we have
- Advise and mentor our athletes to timely and effectively market themselves to college coaches

Core Values Unique to SPV (Limited Travel Program):

- Train young athletes in the fundamentals and techniques of the game of volleyball
- Guarantee playing time for all athletes
- Train young athletes to excel at higher levels of competition while providing an environment where athletes can be involved with other activities.

As we head into the 2010 season, seven (7) of our thirty-plus coaches have had collegiate coaching experience and twenty-six (26) of our coaches have played at the collegiate level. Each "Skyline" team will have an assistant coach, and share several roamer coaches. Our coaches are selected based on their knowledge of the game, temperament, and most importantly, their coaching and leadership capabilities.
