

Tie Breaking Procedure

Two way ties –

All two way ties will be decided by head to head result. If a team won the majority of head to head sets in pool play, that team will be the higher finisher. If the head to head result was a split, then the winner will be determined by cumulative pool point differential. If the point differential is the same, then the winner will be determined by head to head point differential. If a tie still exists, a coin flip will determine places.

All other ties –

All three way ties will be decided by cumulative pool Point Percentage.

If a tie still exists, a coin flip will determine the places
